C-COMM WEATHER POWERED BY IMAP

SUPERIOR ALL-IN-ONE MARINE WEATHER SOLUTIONS

C-Comm Weather, powered by iMap®, offers complete all-in-one weather solutions for commercial shipping.

C-Comm Weather weather services are designed to be easily integrated and accessed from the marine electronics on your bridge. C-Comm Weather works behind your firewall and may be branded by your company for use by your crew, fleet and clients.

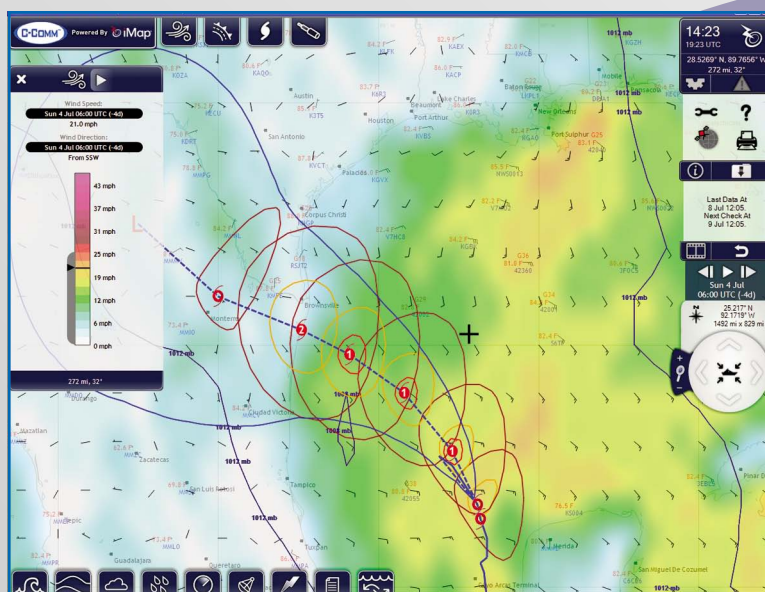

C-COMM WEATHER BENEFITS

VITAL, REAL-TIME WEATHER

C-Comm Weather provides vital, real-time weather and sea condition data on a fully interactive map. With an easy-to-use universal control set of visual icons, C-Comm Weather provides captains and crew with detailed information on up to the minute local and global weather conditions.

C-Comm Weather can easily be tailored to your company's specific needs. Whether you desire a unique data set not currently offered as a public source, or a different data configuration or resolution specific to your location, Weather Decision Technologies, the meteorology team behind iMap, can provide your fleet with a fully customized weather data package.

Armed with C-Comm Weather, your fleet can now navigate smoothly through the stormiest weather.

The C-Comm Weather display allows the user to select specific data to be shown, such as hurricane tracking, wind speed/direction and barometric pressure.

EASE OF USE

INTUITIVE

C-Comm Weather's intuitive, graphical interface delivers complex data via easy-to-read touchscreen icons. C-Comm Weather's services can be downloaded over any Internet connection and launched on any PC-based display.

EASY INTERFACE

C-Comm Weather's graphical displays and icons provide in-depth information for both conventional and touchscreen display devices. C-Comm Weather provides the user with over 10,000 critical pieces of weather data and related information presented in a clear and concise format.

ALL THE WEATHER, ALL-IN-ONE

C-Comm Weather allows users to view critical weather elements such as fronts, winds, waves, satellites and much more on any laptop, tablet PC or other PC-based display device via an integrated console PC on the captain's bridge. Unlike other services that offer only a partial view, C-Comm Weather presents the complete picture in one easily accessible screen. C-Comm Weather technology has been designed to optimize the marine weather experience with on-demand, state-of-the science weather data suitable for all commercial shipping needs.
